CUSTOMS BUREAU TO ATTEMPT TO CHECK SMUGGLING OF GEMS

Special Diamond Unit Sought To Break Up Rings

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Steps to break up international smuggling rings, which are slipping from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000 worth of diamonds into United States annually without payment of duty were taken today by the customs bureau.

If a request for $100,000 appropriation is approved by congress the bureau will have a special diamond unit in action by mid-summer, operating on both sides of the Atlantic, in an effort to reduce the government's loss of 20 per cent duty on the value of smuggled cut stones.

Carriers—the men and women who actually bring the diamonds from Amsterdam and Antwerp markets to the United States—are reaping a profit estimated at close to $4,000,000 annually.

The smugglers guarantee delivery to United States for about 10 per cent of the customs duty saved if the diamonds are smuggled in. The remaining ten per cent is divided between the foreign merchant and the dealers who dispose of smuggled goods in New York.

Customs officials said the Amsterdam and Antwerp markets cut about $100,000,000 worth of diamonds annually. Legitimate imports to the United States were about $40,000,000 last year. Experts estimate that from sixty to eighty per cent of the total output of the foreign cutters reaches the United States.

The international smuggling rings are highly organized and some of them have agents in the South Africa mine fields, where illegal dealing in diamonds frequently starts.

Customs officials said that the smugglers operate skillfully not alone with recognized carriers, but through members of the crews of trans-Atlantic liners. The regular carriers are a crafty lot and employ many ruses to slip their diamonds by the customs authorities at New York. A number of beautiful women highly trained in the ways of polite society, are agents of the illegitimate diamond merchants.

The customs diamond squad probably will have agents in Antwerp and Amsterdam, checking the outward movement of stones, and on American bound liners.

CONSOLIDATION IS RURAL CHURCH HOPE CONFERENCE FEELS

Ministers Report Denominational Barriers Must Drop

COLUMBUS, O., April 17.—Consolidation of churches and abandonment of denominational lines was the drastic remedy for the critical situation faced by the rural church, offered today by ministers attending the state "comity conference" which opened here yesterday under the auspices of the Ohio Council of Churches.

The successes of approximately fifty of the consolidated churches in Ohio, in which people of various denominations, worship in a single, united congregation, were related by pastors in attendance.

Rev. David B. Pearson, of the Federated Church at Aurora, reported that his congregation has a membership of 360 and received twenty-five new memberships, Easter Sunday.

"When I asked them which unit of our church, disciples or congregation, they preferred the two, twenty-three young people of this group would not select either, saying they wanted to join the church and not any denomination," Rev. Pearson said. His is the oldest Federated Church in Ohio. It was organized in 1913.

Rev. W. B. Robinson, of Ontario, said that though his community congregation is under the jurisdiction of the Methodist Episcopal Church, thirteen other denominations are represented in its membership. There is no effort to make Methodists of the congregation, he said. Presbyterian, United Presbyterian and Methodist churches united to form this congregation in 1915.

Rev. Gilbert Loomis, of Chagrin Falls, reported that the two operating factions of his federated church, the disciples and congregation, after several years of "courtship," have just merged their missionary and other societies and are pooling their property interests.

As evidence of the crisis faced by the rural church, Dr. Charles L. Zorbaugh, of Columbus, chairman of the comity committee of the Ohio Council of Churches, cited statistics showing that the rural population of the United States is decreasing at the rate of 478,000 per year, and that the average farmer who in 1920 received 29 per cent more for his own labor than he paid his hired man, now receives only one-fourth as much as his own employee.

LONE BANDIT SOUGHT AFTER TRAIN HOLD-UP

Robs Passengers As Train Pulls Out Of Chicago Station—Loot Valued At Several Thousand Dollars

CHICAGO, April 17.—A lone bandit who last night held up the Overland Limited, on the Northwestern Lines, and robbed a dozen passengers of cash and jewelry valued at several thousands of dollars, was the object of a city-wide search today.

The robbery was staged as the train, west-bound to San Francisco, pulled out of the downtown station. The bandit, well-groomed and dashing, gained entrance to the train. He stood on the observation car platform among a dozen passengers.

Scarcely had the train cleared the shed when the bandit quickly covered his face with a handkerchief and whipped out a revolver. "All right folks, make it snappy," he commanded. "Put up your hands and be nice, and nobody will get hurt."

After relieving the passengers—several of whom were women—of the wallets and purses, he pulled the emergency air cord, halting the train. He then leaped from the car and disappeared in the darkness.

Among the passengers aboard who avoided being robbed was James J. Jeffries, former heavy weight boxing champion.

William H. Viperman, 230 W. Main St., Xenia, employee of The Dayton Power and Light Co., is in a critical condition at Hale Hospital, Wilmington, O., not expected to survive effects of an electric shock and bruises sustained when he fell from the top of a forty-foot steel tower and came in contact with a high tension wire while engaged in work on the company lines one-half mile north of Port William at 9:45 a. m. Monday.

Viperman had climbed to the top of the tower where he attempted to fasten a safety belt around his waist. Unaware that the clasp was not securely fastened, he leaned backward and fell forty feet to the ground, alighting five feet from the base of the tower.

In falling he came in contact with a high tension wire carrying 12,000 volts of electricity. He was rendered unconscious by the shock. Fellow employees rushed to his assistance and found him seriously burned. His body had turned blue from the shock.

Assisted by five workers, Charles Thornhill, in charge of the linemen, started the prompt method of resuscitation. In eight minutes Viperman started to breathe naturally and revived slightly.

Dr. C. E. Ream, Bowersville, was summoned and ordered the injured man removed to Hale Hospital at Wilmington, where an X-ray disclosed no broken bones. It is thought, however, he may be suffering from internal injuries.

Dr. Kelley Hale, attending physician, has not made a complete diagnosis to determine the extent of his injuries but slight hope is held out for recovery.

COLUMBUS, O., April 17.—Dr. Austin H. Seeds, 38, died in Grant Hospital here early today of bullet wounds inflicted in his office yesterday afternoon by Gust Jouraras, 38, of Zanesville. Jouraras, a Greek laborer, after fatally wounding Dr. Seeds, turned the pistol on himself and died instantly.

Jouraras was hurt about a year ago while working for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Cement Works, south of Zanesville. A wall collapsed and Jouraras suffered fractured ribs and internal injuries.

Up until January of this year Jouraras had received regular compensation from the state industrial commission. In February he was sent to Doctor Seeds and Dr. T. R. Fletcher, on their report, the compensation was discontinued.

Jouraras went to Dr. Seeds' office yesterday and demanded to see him. After the two had been together in the doctor's office several minutes, Dr. Seeds summoned his nurse, Miss Mildred Ashton, 23, and when she entered Jouraras had drawn a pistol. He immediately began shooting at Dr. Seeds, according to the girl's account of the tragedy and the physician slumped behind his desk.

The nurse then attempted to stop the frenzied Greek and in the ensuing scuffle she was thrown against the glass door to the office and her shoulder slightly cut by broken glass. As she screamed for help Jouraras placed the gun against his head and pulled the trigger. Dr. Seeds, with four bullets in his body was taken to the hospital where he died at 3:15 o'clock this morning.

Funeral arrangements for Dr. Seeds, were completed today. Jouraras' body lay in state in an undertaking establishment.

His mother, Mrs. R. Jouraras, lives in Athens, Greece, and he is said to have a cousin in Cleveland.

PRESIDENTIAL SKY STILL CLOUDED AS CONVENTION NEARS

Lowden Leading In States That Have Had Primaries

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Eight weeks from today the Republican national convention meets in Kansas City to select its presidential candidate.

The field heads into the highly important six weeks of April and May, filled with primaries and state conventions, with the situation only slightly beginning to clarify.

Considerably less than half of the delegates have been chosen, either by primary, state convention or action by state committees, and those that have been chosen are about equally divided between the leaders—Herbert Hoover and Frank O. Lowden.

Only six of the seventeen primary states have gone to the polls, Illinois, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota and Wisconsin. These states have between them 164 delegates. Lowden is estimated to have won forty-eight; Hoover, thirteen in North Dakota and seven in Wisconsin, a total of sixty-eight. Hoover has picked up thirty-three in Michigan, twelve in New Hampshire and four in Wisconsin, a total of forty-nine. Senator George W. Norris (R) of Nebraska, has received the nineteen from his native state, and fifteen in Wisconsin, making thirty-four.

The primaries to date admittedly have thrown but little light on the situation as a whole.

The action of various state conventions and state committees has thrown but little more. Aside from the primary states, some fourteen states have taken definite action in the matter of selecting delegates and instructing or pledging them, or leaving them unrestricted, but favorable to the various candidates.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—Caught in a rooming house here where detectives seized a miniature arsenal of pistols, Jack Riddell and James Daley, both 27, escaped convicts from Dannemora Prison, N. Y., will be arraigned today before Magistrate E. J. Holland.

The men are alleged to have escaped jail in 1923. Riddell, police say, faces a life sentence in New York under the Baumes act.

Witnesses in the slaying of a theater manager and the wounding of a girl patron during an attempted holdup here will confront the prisoners today.

PERSONAL BITTERNESS MARKS BATTLE ON FLOOD CONTROL BILL

WASHINGTON, April 17.—With party lines smashed, charges of another "Teapot Dome" being bandied about, personal bitterness engendered and a presidential veto threatened the house today took up the $225,000,000 Jones-Reid flood control bill.

Rejecting the administration's last-minute efforts at a compromise, a determined majority of the house flood control committee led by Rep. Frank R. Reid (R) of Illinois demanded that the government prevent new disasters in the Mississippi Valley and pay for the job.

Meanwhile Republican leaders were still conducting negotiations outside the floor in an effort to secure amendments which would avert the threatened veto and the possible adjournment of congress without enacting flood relief legislation.

Although the senate passed the bill 69 to 9 in less than two hours, a bitter battle was faced in the house.

ST. LAWRENCE DEEP WATERWAY PROJECT REJECTED BY CANADA

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway is again on the shelf. Canada has rejected the proposal of the United States for an immediate beginning on a treaty which would set dredges and concrete mixers to work.

Secretary of State Kellogg suggested immediate inauguration of treaty negotiations in April, a year ago. The voluminous correspondence since exchanged was made public today.

It is understood here that nothing more can be done until after the next Canadian national elections, if then. These are not expected until 1929 or 1931.

Water power rights are the principal obstacle. Canada will not permit more power to be developed from wholly Canadian fights than can be absorbed by the Canadian market. She will not consider exporting her surplus to the United States. Potential hydro-electric energy involved in the project is estimated at 5,000,000 horsepower, half of which belongs to Canada.

The major differences between the two governments center on the remaining 2,500,000 potential horsepower to be developed in the international section near northern New York.

"Public opinion in Canada," said Vincent Massey, Canadian minister, in his note of January 31, "is opposed to the export of hydro-electric power, and is insistent that such power as may be developed

LONDON, April 17.—Henry Ford was entertained at luncheon in the house of commons restaurant today by former Premier David Lloyd George. The guests included Lord Reading; Sir Robert Hutchison, chief Liberal whip in the house of commons; Sir John Simon and several other prominent Liberals. After the luncheon Ford inspected the parliament building.

NEW YORK, April 17.—There is no danger of Jack Dempsey becoming a movie actor, New York Times said today. "For, although Jack has definitely quit the fight game, he has already started work to make for himself a name in the thespian roster. He will become an actor."

"But he will always be Jack Dempsey," insisted his actress wife, Miss Estelle Taylor, who is with Jack at a local hotel. "The two will live while the former heavy-weight champion battles with Jack Kearns in the latter's $700,000 law suit."

"A man with a definite personality like Jack could never be known merely as the husband of a movie actress," said Miss Taylor. "No matter how great a might become, they would never point him out as 'Miss Taylor's hubby.' If I thought they would I would quit the movie game at once."

But Mrs. Dempsey likes to think of her husband as the old Jack Dempsey—the tigerish fighter, the Manassa mauler, the hard-hitting, iron-mitted administrator of sportlike stingers. As the sheik actor—never!

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., April 17.—The textile strike of nearly 30,000 operatives employed in twenty-seven mills, in protest against a ten per cent wage cut, continued today. Reports from various mills throughout the city were that the strike was practically 100 per cent.

TRANS-ATLANTIC FLYER AND RELIEF PILOT ARE DELAYED

Second Relief Ship Is Forced To Land At Seven Islands

NATASHQUAN, Quebec, April 17.—Commandant James E. Fitzmaurice, relief pilot of the German transatlantic plane Bremen, who was forced down here by stormy weather while flying from Greenly Island to Murray Bay, Que., hoped to be able to continue his journey today, reaching the airport outside of Quebec before dusk. The distance is approximately 600 miles.

High winds prevailed throughout the night, but Fitzmaurice was so anxious to resume his journey that the pilot of the plane, "Duke" Schiller, was ready to take more than the usual chances.

Fitzmaurice's decision to leave the Bremen was made after a conference with Capt. Herman Kocael and Baron Von Huenefeld. It is understood that there was no agreement of any kind. The three flyers will unite later. The relief plane has in its possession a letter of greetings from President William L. Cosgrave, of the Irish Free State, to President Coolidge. Fitzmaurice said he was anxious to get to Washington to deliver it.

SEVEN ISLANDS, Que., April 17.—The second Greenly Island relief plane, which was detained here over night by a violent storm which blew up over the Gulf of St. Lawrence, was expected to hop off again this morning for the scene of the transatlantic plane Bremen's forced landing.

The relief plane, which left Murray Bay yesterday morning with four occupants, including an international news service correspondent, landed here shortly after two o'clock after battling a furious gale thick with mist and snow. It was not damaged.

The plane had a dangerous time of it and once it looked as though the flyers might be forced down in the desolate mountain range along the northern shores of the St. Lawrence. Violent headwinds rocked the plane in a most perilous manner and only the skill of pilot Romeo Savachon saved it from threatened disaster.

QUEBEC, Que., April 17.—Captain Hermann Kocael and Baron Ehrenfried Von Huenefeld will hop off from Greenly Island in the transatlantic monoplane Bremen tomorrow if they are able to complete their repairs.

This was the hope of the German flyers on the barren ice-bound island upon which they ended their epochal flight, after their companion, Commandant James E. Fitzmaurice, had departed southward with "Duke" Schiller.

Wireless dispatches from Point Amour, the nearest wireless station to Greenly Island, indicated that the Bremen's propeller shaft was damaged.

It is believed that Fitzmaurice will attempt to get to Montreal. There, according to reports from New York, he will be met by Timothy A. Smiddy, the Free State minister to the United States. Smiddy is now in New York and according to reports, will leave Montreal tomorrow night.

From Montreal, it is believed the Irish flyer and minister will go directly to Washington, D. C., where Fitzmaurice will deliver in person a letter he is bearing from President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State to President Coolidge.

At about six o'clock last night Miss Herta Junkers, daughter of the builder of the Bremen, arrived at Montreal in a sister ship of the transatlantic plane, the Junkers F-13.

The plane was piloted by Fred Melchior. Gerhard Junkers, brother of Herta, accompanied her.

The F-13 carried surplus fuel and spare parts intended for the Bremen.

Main St., Xenia, employee of The Dayton Power and Light Co., is in a critical condition at Hale Hospital, Wilmington, O., not expected to survive effects of an electric shock and bruises sustained when he fell from the top of a forty-foot steel tower and came in contact with a high tension wire while engaged in work on the company lines one-half mile north of Port William at 9:45 a. m. Monday.

Vipperman had climbed to the top of the tower where he attempted to fasten a safety belt around his waist. Unaware that the clasp was not securely fastened, he leaned backward and fell forty feet to the ground, alighting five feet from the base of the tower.

In falling he came in contact with a high tension wire carrying 12,000 volts of electricity. He was rendered unconscious by the shock.

Fellow employees rushed to his assistance and found him seriously burned. His body had turned blue from the shock.

Assisted by five workers, Charles Thornhill, in charge of the linemen, started the prone method of resuscitation. In eight minutes Vipperman started to breathe naturally and revived slightly.

Dr. C. E. Roam, Hovorsville, was summoned and ordered the injured man removed to Hale Hospital at Wilmington, where an X-ray disclosed no broken bones. It is thought, however, he may be suffering from internal injuries.

Dr. Kelley Hale, attending physician, has not made a complete diagnosis to determine the extent of his injuries but slight hope is held out for recovery.

PRESIDENTIAL SKY STILL CLOUDED AS CONVENTION NEARS

Lowden Leading in States That Have Had Primaries

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Eight weeks from today the Republican national convention meets in Kansas City to select its presidential candidate.

The field heads into the highly important six weeks of April and May, filled with primaries and state conventions, with the situation only slightly beginning to clarify.

Considerably less than half of the delegates have been chosen, either by primary, state convention or action by state committees, and those that have been chosen are about equally divided between the leaders—Herbert Hoover and Frank O. Lowden.

Only six of the seventeen primary states have gone to the polls, Illinois, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota and Wisconsin. These states have between them 164 delegates. Lowden is estimated to have won forty-eight in Illinois, the other thirteen being doubtful, thirteen in North Dakota and seven in Wisconsin, a total of sixty-eight. Hoover has picked up thirty-three in Michigan, twelve in New Hampshire and four in Wisconsin, a total of forty-nine. Senator George W. Norris (R) of Nebraska, has received the nineteen from his native state, and fifteen in Wisconsin, making thirty-four.

The primaries to date admittedly have thrown but little light on the situation as a whole.

The action of various state conventions and state committees has thrown but little more. Aside from the primary states, some definite action in the matter of selecting delegates and instructing or pledging them, or leaving them uninstructed, but favorable to the various candidates.

PERSONAL BITTERNESS MARKS BATTLE ON FLOOD CONTROL BILL

WASHINGTON, April 17.—With party lines smashed, charges of another "Teapot Dome" being bandied about, personal bitterness engendered and a presidential veto threatened the house today took up the $225,000,000 Jones-Reid flood control bill.

Rejecting the administration's last-minute efforts at a compromise, a determined majority of the house flood control committee led by Rep. Frank R. Reid (R) of Illinois demanded that the government prevent new disasters in the Mississippi Valley and pay for the job.

Meanwhile Republican leaders were still conducting negotiations outside the floor in an effort to secure amendments which would avert the threatened veto and the possible adjournment of congress without enacting flood relief legislation.

Although the senate passed the bill, 69 to 9 in less than two hours, a bitter battle was faced in the house.

On that paragraph, the exchanges appear to have deadlocked.

"The United States," Kellogg replied, "ought to have its share of the power of the international section without waiting until Canada may be able to sell her power from these works."

It is understood here that nothing more can be done until after the next Canadian national elections, if then. These are not expected until 1930 or 1931.

Water power rights are the principal obstacle. Canada will not permit more power to be developed from wholly Canadian rights than can be absorbed by the Canadian market. She will not consider exporting her surplus to the United States.

Potential hydro-electric energy involved in the project is estimated at 5,000,000 horsepower, half of which belongs to Canada.

The major differences between the two governments center on the remaining 2,250,000 potential horsepower to be developed in the international section near northern New York.

TRANS-ATLANTIC FLYER AND RELIEF PILOT ARE DELAYED

Second Relief Ship Is Forced To Land At Seven Islands

NATASHQUAN, Quebec, April 17.—Commandant James E. Fitzmaurice, relief pilot of the German transatlantic plane Bremen, who was forced down here by stormy weather while flying from Greene Island to Murray Bay, Que., hoped to be able to continue his journey today, reaching the airport outside of Quebec before dusk. The distance is approximately 600 miles.

High winds prevailed throughout the night, but Fitzmaurice was so anxious to resume his journey that the pilot of the plane, "Duke" Schiller, was ready to take more than the usual chances.

Fitzmaurice's decision to leave the Bremen was made after conference with Capt. Herman Koel and Baron Von Huenefeld. It is understood that there was no disagreement of any kind. The three flyers will unite later on.

Fitzmaurice has in his possession a landing plane, which he had secured around ascertaining the location of the plane and made a landing on a small pond. The crew was rather exhausted, but quite recovered after a short time.

MAYOR PRUGH MADE CHAIRMAN OF HOME-COMING FINANCES

Mayor John W. Prugh was appointed chairman of the finance committee, one of the "key" committees named to arrange preliminary plans for the proposed 1928 Home-Coming in Xenia, at the weekly meeting of the general executive committee on Monday night, it is announced by Chairman T. H. Zell.

Various chairmen of the sub-committees attended the meeting and reported that progress is being made by the different units in furthering plans for the event.

Increased enthusiasm is being manifested with each succeeding meeting and details are gradually being rounded into shape.

The principal problem faced by the committee at present is that of obtaining names and addresses of former residents of Xenia and of Greene County. Names and addresses are vital to present plans if the Home-Coming is to be a success.

BUTTER MAKERS TO SEEK DELIVERIES OF CREAM OFTENER

CAMBRIDGE, O., April 16.—Action to force the southeastern Ohio producers of cream intended for the manufacture of butter to make deliveries twice a week or oftener will be considered at a conference of butter manufacturers and creamery plant owners of the southeastern Ohio district to be held April 17, in this city, according to an announcement of the Ohio Dairy Products Association.

This is the first step in a state-wide movement to be launched by the Ohio Dairy Association to better the conditions of the Ohio creamery butter market and to increase the annual output of butter in Ohio, it was said. Other conferences will be held in various sections of the state if the result of this meeting is gratifying.

Pointing out that last year Ohio consumed 150 million more pounds of butter than was produced in the state, the association said that if the action to force the producers to make more deliveries would materialize, waste occurred in keeping cream for delivery times would minimize and that it would also better the quality of the cream.

Though only about twenty-five persons are scheduled to attend the meeting here it was pointed out that those who are expected to be present are the "king pins" of the southeastern Ohio butter manufacturing industry. If these men are in favor of the action it was said that plans would be discussed for getting the farmers district to co-operate with them.

Another conference to discuss the same issues will be held at the Ohio State University in Columbus in June.

Butter manufacturers and creamery plant owners from Zanesville, Caldwell, Marietta, Akron, Columbus, Cleveland, Dexter City and Woodfield are expected to attend. Homer Johnson, Caldwell, is chairman of the southeastern Ohio district.

INGROWN NAIL Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

MAYOR PRUGH MADE CHAIRMAN OF HOME-COMING FINANCES

Mayor John W. Prugh was appointed chairman of the finance committee, one of the "key" committees named to arrange preliminary plans for the proposed 1928 Home-Coming in Xenia, at the weekly meeting of the general Executive Committee Monday night, it is announced by Chairman T. H. Zell.

Various chairman of the sub-committees attended the meeting and reported that progress is being made by the different units in furthering plans for the event.

Increased enthusiasm is being manifested with each succeeding meeting and details are gradually being rounded into shape.

The principal problem faced by the committees at present is that of obtaining names and addresses of former residents of Xenia and Greene County. Names and addresses are vital to present plans if the Home-Coming is to be a success.

Butter makers to seek deliveries of cream oftener

CAMBRIDGE, O., April 16.—Action to force the southeastern Ohio producers of cream intended for the manufacture of butter to make deliveries twice a week or oftener will be considered at a conference of butter manufacturers and creamery plant owners of the southeastern Ohio district to be held April 17, in this city, according to an announcement of the Ohio Dairy Products Association.

This is the first step in a statewide movement to be launched by the Ohio Dairy Association to better conditions of the Ohio creamery butter market and to increase the annual output of butter in Ohio, it was said. Other conferences will be held in various sections of the state if the result of this meeting is gratifying.

Pointing out that last year Ohio consumed 150 million more pounds of butter than was produced in the state, the association said that if the action to force the producers to make more deliveries would minimize waste occurred in keeping cream for delivery times would be better and that it would also be better the quality of the cream.

Though only about twenty-five persons are scheduled to attend the meeting here it was pointed out that those who are expected to be present are the "king pins" of the southeastern Ohio butter manufacturing industry. If these men are in favor of the action it was said that plans would be discussed for getting the farmers district to co-operate with them.

Another conference to discuss

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"

Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentation in the bowels and gently urges the surplus waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips."

Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so softens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. Adv.

WILBERFORCE DEDICATES NEW BUILDING AT TUESDAY PROGRAM

"Twenty-five years ago, economics was looked on with little appreciation and was belittled. Today, it holds an honorable position in the curriculum of colleges," declared Supt. R. C. Bundy, of the C. N. and I. Department, Wilberforce University, Tuesday morning.

Supt. Bundy declared that "there are very few people who understand the enormous expense of operating an educational institution" and expressed his thanks to the Ohio legislature that saw the importance of having the new economics building at Wilberforce.

A surprise feature of the program was the appearance on the platform of Robert S. Abbott, editor of the Chicago Defender, famous newspaper of the colored race. He received an ovation after his introduction and spoke on "The Need of Citizenship."

"The colored man will have to forget he has a black face and believe that his brain and heart are just as those of the white race," he said in the course of his talk. He was accompanied to Wilberforce by Mrs. Abbott.

Mrs. Ruby Downs Williams, representing the Pittsburgh Courier, was also introduced on the dedication program and responded briefly. Joseph L. Tracy, state auditor, was present with a short talk as well as Joseph L. Johnson, president of the C. N. and I. Board.

Bishop J. H. Jones, spoke on the subject "Reminiscences" and held up before the audience a paper containing 10,000 names which he and S. T. Mitchell, former president of Wilberforce, circulated before the citizens of the state to obtain passage of a bill creating the C. N. and I. Department at Wilberforce.

It is believed by some that there are two schools at Wilberforce," Bishop Jones said. "This is a mistaken idea—there is only one White."

Are You One of Those Women?

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Certain women are sufficiently interesting in appearance to cause people to look twice. The secret is an outstanding smartness.

Always such a person appears perfectly groomed but the methods of acquiring this stamp are quiet and unobtrusive.

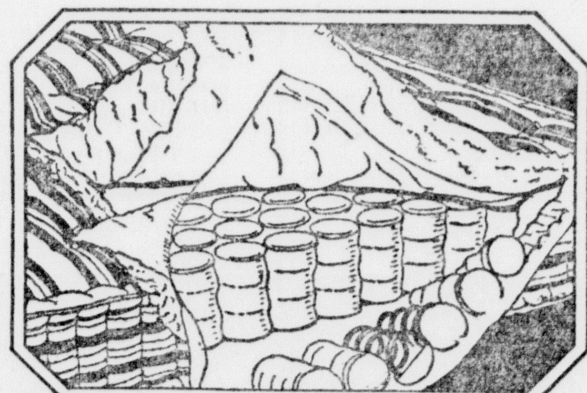

Here is one of the important ways: Use powder that blends with your skin so smoothly that it looks a part of you. I have found this powder in France.

Formerly it was made for my personal use only. Now you can buy it at your own toilet counter. The price is $1. It comes in a square box. Ask for Edna Wallace Hopper's Heavy Face Powder.

For certain skins which do not require as clinging a type I have what I call my Light Face Powder which comes in a round box at a lower price.

Both types in Flesh, Brunette, White. Adv.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE PRINCIPAL THING—Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom, and with all thy getting get understanding.—Prov. 4:7

STRAWS IN THE WIND

This is the season for straw votes. At any time you may receive a letter from some agency asking you to give your preference for president or some magazine or newspaper may ask you to clip out a ballot and vote thereon your preference. Such ballots are always interesting.

Probably the collection of such ballots exercises some influence over political results. Many people are inclined to vote on the winning side. They have the idea of being a loser, and if a party or candidate seems to be winning, they jump to the conclusion that that party or candidate is the best fitted to win, and they become the handwagons.

We need more people who will vote their convictions regardless of whether they are winning or losing, and not so many who drift with the crowd like the straws in the wind.

REMINERS OF THE PAST

A movement has been started by the American Institute of Architects to preserve historic buildings all over the country. There are many such buildings in various cities and towns of Ohio, associated with our early history, or with famous people which should be preserved. If they could be used as places to display historical relics, they would serve a most useful purpose.

Every community has interesting relics of the past which ought to be preserved in some public place, to give the people an idea of the experiences through which the pioneers and famous personages of their state have gone. When such relics are preserved, people get a better idea of the importance and dignity of a grand old commonwealth like Ohio.

ADOPTING U. S. NATIONAL SPORT

It has seemed strange that baseball, over which as the national sport our people are so enthusiastic, should have so little vogue in foreign lands.

But there is one very brilliant exception, and that is Japan, where the game seems likely to become as popular as in this country. Writing in the magazine "Asia," Harry Kingman tells about a high school championship game he attended which had 85,000 spectators. The Japanese players do not rattle their opponents with their noise, they lose gracefully and without show of emotion. They regard it as a means by which the ancient traditions of courtesy can be kept alive, which is obviously somewhat different from the ways prevailing on many of our ball fields.

The popularity of this favorite game in this land across the wide Pacific should promote friendly relations between the United States and Japan.

Those who dance must pay the corn doctor.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

FUEL

Fire was one of the major discoveries of early man. He has been cooking food, developing power, and warming himself ever since. Geologists now tell us that a million or more years from now the earth will be much as it is now and still going around the slightly cooled sun. Coal, oil, and other deposits in the earth will have been used by up that time. It need not worry us at all. Already the use of coal is decreasing, although there is still plenty in the earth for generations to come. Other fuel takes its place. When oil and gas are gone something else will have been invented so that ingenious man can go on cooking his food, developing power, and warming himself.

PARTY POLITICS

One of the reasons for the indifference which characterizes so many citizens in regard to politics and public affairs is a pretty general ignorance about the history of the political parties of America and an understanding of the motives and actions of the outstanding leaders of those parties. A knowledge of the circumstances which led to the nomination of Lincoln by the Republicans, in 1860, or an understanding of the circumstances which led to Blaine's defeat and Cleveland's defeat, in 1884, would prove interesting and stimulating—to the degree that some of the present day indifference toward public affairs might be overcome.

THE GIANT RADIO

Almost all of us are more or less interested in radio—if only to knock the jazz programs. How many of us realize that a new industrial giant has stalked among us and has taken its place. A few years ago we were amazed at the figures of the motion picture industry. We were astonished to learn that it ranked far up in class of the steel and motors. Playing on Our Imagination

It has not been many years since concerns manufacturing high-grade brick used to throw a side and sell at a great reduction all bricks that were overburned and therefore, not of uniform color. One day a thoughtful brick dealer arranged a lot of the spoiled bricks into a little wall, with colors harmoniously blended, and called it a tapestry effect. Then he exhibited this wall to customers and began to charge about four dollars a thousand more for the spoiled brick than for the other. People gladly paid the extra charge because of the beautiful color effect possible with overburned bricks.

It is a part of human nature to pay special heed to that which bears the stamp of success. You start out in New York to attend a theater. There are plenty of good shows, but you find only one theater is sold out. Immediately you lose interest in all the others and set your heart on going to the one where seats can be obtained only by paying a premium to a haughty speculator. It may not be a very good show after all, but you think it is, else why would so many persons have clamored to get in? On the other hand, you drop in on an excellent performance where the theater is only half filled, and it is difficult to get much pleasure out of the entertainment, because you keep looking at the empty seats and thinking that the show must be extremely poor or those seats would have been occupied.

A certain restaurant proprietor had enough imagination to take note of this human trait and utilize it in his business. He knew that his restaurant could not draw as large a trade on some days of the week as on others, and that some seasons of the year would be comparatively dull. He knew also, that if customers saw a lot of empty tables, they would begin to wonder what was wrong with his food. So he always had just enough tables barely to accommodate his trade for any particular day. Thus he threw an atmosphere of success about his establishment—by giving the impression that he is always doing a capacity business.

How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Women are so busy these days, that often it takes more time than can spare to even plan an exercise regime, which will not conflict with other necessary time-taking parts of their daily routine. That is why I hope that this plan I present will enable some of you to systematize your physical needs, beginning with them in the most effective and efficient way.

If I had a very limited time in which to bathe, dress, eat and travel in the morning, I should not attempt a long or over-strenuous regime of exercise.

Upon rising, I should first take my necessary long drink of water, then spread cleansing cream quickly over my face, remove the excess with tissues, and go through four simple exercises. Stretching, bending, shoulder muscle contracting, a good leg and ankle movement, and then eight long deep-breathing exercises.

After that, my bath, to be first preceded by a quick application of a good stimulating skin clearing cream. Then out of the bath, necessary attention to hair, foundations, make-up and dressing, then breakfast, a short walk (a longer one if possible), and the day's work. So much for the morning.

But at night, even the busiest woman ought to take the time to move thoroughly attend to her needs, both skin and body. She should go through as many of the general corrective rhythmic as possible, supplementing them with those other more concentrated movements for hips, waist or shoulders, according to her needs.

Balanced proportion is the aim of modern physical beauty culture. Do not expend all your effort on one or another exercise for some individual part of the body.

Concentrate, of course, on your biggest, most evident faults, but remember that if your muscles were properly and sufficiently active, no excess fat would be visible anywhere. And the very fact that one part of your body evidences inactive muscles, is sufficient reason for you to take the whole matter of your physical form in hand.

The first few days of rhythmic that you will feel so energetic, so pleasantly, freshly, alive, that you will never willingly miss your morning and evening routine.

God could not be everywhere; therefore He made mothers.

Increasing in Weight During Pregnancy

The normal increase in weight during pregnancy should be approximately 15 pounds. This will allow for the baby, placenta, amniotic fluid and uterus, and the weight of the uterus and the breasts. If there is a gain of 15 pounds, in the mother, it means that her own tissue fat has increased, and possibly that of the baby.

If the woman has gained only about 10 pounds, she normally should, she will rapidly return to normal weight after the birth of her child. It is during the latter part of pregnancy that the mother is more apt to gain excessively, unless she is careful. Not only does the excessive gain in weight in the mother tend to increase the size of the baby, but it narrows the birth passage, just in two ways making the birth harder. And not only will the careful attention to the diet to prevent overweight make the labor easier, but it will, in a large measure, prevent the toxemia and convulsions which may occur during pregnancy if the diet is not right.

If the mother is overweight at the beginning of pregnancy, she should not gain any. This will mean a loss of her own weight. Yes, she can safely reduce during pregnancy, even more than 15 pounds, if necessary.

I've told you these things many times before. I'm just repeating because I've been reading an article by Simons and Fagan of Los Angeles, which emphasizes all these points I have given.

(We have an article on the diet during nursing and by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope and two cents in coin. Ask, also, for our list of books recommended to mothers and guardians—way. ## TODAY'S RECIPES

Eggs Poached in Milk — Poach eggs in milk just as in water, only never let milk boil, just keep it real hot. When eggs are done, place on buttered toast, then pour hot milk over both.

Lily Salad — Place leaf lettuce on salad plate with a spoon of mayonnaise place one yolk of hard-boiled egg. Tossing from yolk place strips of hard-boiled egg white, which has been cut in about five lengthwise strips. Sprinkle paprika on yolk for stamens.

The investigators do precious little worrying about volunteer witnesses.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Two big senate investigations are scheduled to run all summer, in spite of the presidential campaign.

Indeed, the oil inquiry's relied on to furnish lots of campaign material: while the slush fund inquirers, by remaining on the job, aim to keep would-be campaign contributions scared half to death.

These two committees are politically one-sided. If they were non- or bi-partisan they wouldn't have the same inducement for keeping steam up under their boilers. Inasmuch, however, as their presiding gents hope to embarrass the other fellows, to their own folks advantage, campaign times the very season for them to get in their best licks. The coal investigation may be equally important to the public, but not to the politicians; so that's likely to be suspended during the campaign rush.

So much congressional investigating's been going on recently that a good many people are beginning to try writing in and offering themselves as witnesses, evidently under the impression that a subpoena means a swell trip to Washington and several days of the life of Riley at a capital hotel, at the government's expense.

It isn't a possible trick, most of the committees having failed for a goodly number of witnesses who didn't enlighten them much, but Uncle Sam isn't as liberal with such vacations as is popularly supposed.

Except transportation, $3 a day is the maximum amount of expenses he allows, and $3 doesn't go far these times, in Washington. Transportation, to be sure, is at the rate of 7 cents a mile, but that has to cover Pullman charges, and all incidentals, too.

Very few of the high moguls who arrive in de luxe style in response to summonses, and put up in presidential suites, submit any bills at all, simply seeming to notice the little thing sums the law limits them to, for their time, and testimony.

From the smaller fry, loud are the lamentations which frequently go up, when the unfortunate purveyor of information not only finds his "swindle sheet" good for but a fraction of its face, but realizes that he's actually out of pocket as a result of his efforts to help one of congress "probes" along.

The genuinely-wanted witness who, duly subpoenaed, honestly can't come from a distance owing to lack of funds, gets a railroad ticket in advance, and usually a $5-bill, for meals on the way.

The investigators do precious little worrying about volunteer witnesses.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE PRINCIPAL THING—Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom, and with all the getting get understanding.—Prov. 4:7

STRAWS IN THE WIND

This is the season for straw votes. At any time you may receive a letter from some agency asking you to give your preference for president in some imaginary election. Such letters are always interesting.

Probably the collection of such ballots exercises some influence over political reality. Many people are inclined to vote on the winning side. I have seen the idea of being a loser, and if a party or candidate seems to be winning, they jump to the conclusion that that party or candidate is the best fitted to win, and they have chosen the hand-wagon.

We need more people who will vote their convictions regardless of whether they are winning or losing, and not so many who drift with the crowd like the straws in the wind.

REMINDEES OF THE PAST

A movement has been started by the American Institute of Architects, to preserve historic buildings all over the country. There are many such buildings in various cities and towns of Ohio, associated with our early history, or with famous people which should be preserved. If they could be used as places to display historical relics, they would serve a most useful purpose.

Every community has interesting relics of the past which ought to be preserved in some public place, to give the people an idea of the experiences through which the pioneers and famous personages of their state have gone. When such relics are preserved, people get a better idea of the importance and dignity of a grand old commonwealth like Ohio.

ADOPTING U. S. NATIONAL SPORT

It has seemed strange that baseball, over which as the national sport our people are so enthusiastic, should have so little vogue in foreign lands.

But there is one very brilliant exception, and that is Japan, where the game seems likely to become as popular as in this country. Writing in the magazine "Asia," Harry Kingman tells about a high school championship game he attended which had 85,000 spectators. The Japanese players do not rattle their opponents with their noise, they lose gracefully and without show of emotion. They regard it as a means by which the ancient traditions of courtesy can be kept alive, which is obviously somewhat different from the ways prevailing on many of our ball fields.

The popularity of this favorite game in this land across the wide Pacific should promote friendly relations between the United States and Japan.

Those who dance must pay the corn doctor.

FUEL

Fire was one of the major discoveries of early man. He has been cooking food, developing power, and warming himself ever since. Geologists now tell us that a million or more years from now the earth will be much as it is now and still going around the slightly cooled sun. Coal, oil, and other deposits in the earth will have been used by up that time. It need not worry us at all. Already the use of coal is decreasing, although there is still plenty in the earth for generations to come. Other fuel takes its place. When oil and gas are gone something else will have been invented so that ingenious man can go on cooking his food, developing power, and warming himself.

PARTY POLITICS

One of the reasons for the indifference which characterizes so many citizens in regard to politics and public affairs is a pretty general ignorance about the history of the political parties of America and an understanding of the motives and actions of the outstanding leaders of those parties. A knowledge of the circumstances which led to the nomination of Lincoln by the Republicans, in 1860, or an understanding of the circumstances which led to Blaine's defeat and Cleveland's defeat, in 1884, would prove interesting and stimulating—to the degree that some of the present day indifference toward public affairs might be overcome.

Upon rising, I should first take my necessary long drink of water, then spread cleansing cream quickly over my face, remove the excess with tissue, and go through four simple exercises. Stretching, bending, shoulder muscle contracting, a good leg and ankle movement, and then eight long deep-breathing exercises.

After that, my bath, to be first preceded by a quick application of a good stimulating skin clearing cream. Then out of the bath, necessary attention to hair, foundations, make-up and dressing, then breakfast, a short walk (a longer one if possible), and the day's work. So much for the morning.

But at night, even the busiest woman ought to take the time to more thoroughly attend to her needs, both skin and body. She should go through as many of the general corrective rhythmic as possible, supplementing them with those more concentrated movements for hips, waist or shoulder, according to her needs.

Balanced proportion is the aim of modern physical beauty culture. Do not expend all your effort on one or another exercise for some individual part of the body.

Concentrate, of course, on your biggest, most evident faults, but remember that if your muscles were properly and sufficiently active, no excess fat would be visible anywhere. And the very fact that one part of your body evidences inactive muscles, is sufficient reason for you to take the whole matter of your physical form in hand.

The first few days of rhythmic that you will feel so energetic, so pleasantly, freshly, alive, that you will willingly miss your morning and evening routine.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

God could not be everywhere; therefore He made mothers.

—Jewish Proverb.

Increasing in Weight During Pregnancy

The normal increase in weight during pregnancy should be approximately 15 pounds. This will allow for the baby, placenta, the amniotic fluid and the increased weight of the uterus and the breast. If there is a gain of over 15 pounds in the mother, it means that her own tissue fat has increased, and possibly that of the baby.

If the woman has gained only the amount that she normally should, she will rapidly return to normal weight after the birth of her child. If, during the latter part of pregnancy, the mother is more apt to gain excessively, unless she is careful. Not only does the excessive gain in weight make the labor easier, but it increases the size of the baby, but it improves the birth passage, just in two ways making the birth harder. And not only will a careful attention to the diet to prevent overweight make the labor easier, but it will, in a large measure, prevent the toxemias and convulsions which may occur during pregnancy if the diet is not right.

If the mother is overweight at the beginning of pregnancy, she should not gain any. This will mean a loss of her own weight. Yes, she can safely reduce during pregnancy, even more than 15 pounds, if necessary.

I've told you these things many times before. I'm just repeating because I've been reading an article by Slemmons and Fagan of Los Angeles, which emphasizes all these points I have given.

(We have an article on the diet during nursing and pregnancy which can be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope and two cents in coin. Ask, also, for our list of books recommended to mothers and guardians, which may be obtained the same way. This contains a list on pre- and post-natal care, as well as one on the care and feeding of children, and one on sex hygiene.)

Walking Devices

Mrs. N's little girl, of 2 years, is normal in every way, but she will not walk except in the little machine known as a "walker," which was given to her at 17 months. She can now pick it up and carry it with ease. How can she be helped to gain enough confidence so she will try to walk?

Have an accident happen to the walking machine, so it will be put out of commission. Mrs. N. Use it for fire-wood. Those walkers are certainly harmful. The child doesn't develop normally when they are used. It may be a little while before she will develop the muscle she hasn't used, before she can walk, so have patience.

Any standard shoe for children will be good for her. Get them large enough.

Funny Heads
Mrs. G's three-day-old baby's head, she says, looks funny, but her doctor laughs at her worry. It is not unusual at all for babies to have irregularly shaped heads for a few weeks after birth. Mrs. G. This is due to the passage of the head through the birth canal. Babies should not lie with the head in one position all the time. This may make their heads permanently irregular.

Mrs. A.—Consult a physician. The condition you speak of is easily remedied. There is no reason why you shouldn't have a first child after 40 if your frame is normal and you have the right prenatal care.

If you are interested, send for the list of books advised to mothers, see direction above.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

SILENCE HARD TO BEAR

Of all the things we are called upon to bear in this world, the hardest, it seems to me, is to have people we love drop out of our lives without leaving a trace behind. How do mothers bear the awful suspense when one of their children disappear? or wives when the husband and father fails to come home and their is no word as to what has happened to him? And lovers who are separated, what is comparable to their suffering when no letters come from their loved ones and a black wall of silence surrounds them? That is the cruellest thing you can do to those who love you—leave them, leaving no word, letting them agonize over the why and wherefore of your silence.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I am almost 19, and engaged to a man four years my senior. I have gone with him almost two years and been engaged for about a year. He made a date and hasn't shown up or written since. I answered his letter at the time and thought nothing of it, as it was a very bad night. He always said if he found some one he liked better he would tell me, and I the same. The next to the last letter I got from him he said he was trying to save his money and pay his debts and to get a start so it would be easier for both of us. I was proud of him when he wrote that. I have tried to forget him, but I love him with all my heart, and every time I turn around there are memories of him. How can I get him back, or do you think I should try? I don't want him to think I am running after him. Please tell me what to do?"

"Don't Understand."

I certainly think the young man owes you an explanation, and as you are engaged, I should write him and ask for one. That could not be called "running after him." As you had an understanding that you were to tell one another if any one came between you, he should tell you frankly and not keep you in suspense. I think the young man has treated you very unkindly.

Men whose jobs take them away from home—known generally as "traveling men"—are often accused of being flippant in their attitude toward the so-called "weaker sex," and some time ago a young woman wrote me to ask if traveling men were always fickle and unreliable. One of them writes in as follows:

"Concerning the integrity 'traveling men,' men in this profession are similar in most respects to people in any other business, with perhaps this distinction: Their one com-

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Two big senate investigations are scheduled to run all summer, in spite of the presidential campaign.

Indeed, the oil inquiry's relied on to furnish lots of campaign material; while the slush fund inquirers, by remaining on the job, aim to keep would-be campaign contributions scared half to death.

These two committees are politically one-sided. If they were non- or bi-partisan they wouldn't have the same inducement for keeping steam up under their boilers. Inasmuch, however, as their presiding geni hope to embarrass the other fellows, to their own folks advantage, campaign time's the very season for them to get in their best licks. The coal investigation may be equally important to the public, but not to the politicians; so that's likely to be suspended during the campaign rush.

So much congressional investigating's been going on recently that a good many people are beginning to try writing in and offering themselves as witnesses, evidently under the impression that a subpoena means a swell trip to Washington and several days of the life of Riley at a capital hotel, at the government's expense.

It isn't an impossible trick, most of the committees having fallen for a goodly number of witnesses who didn't enlighten them much, but Uncle Sam isn't as liberal with such vacations as is popularly supposed.

Except transportation, $3 a day is the maximum amount of expenses he allows, and $3 doesn't go far these times, in Washington. Transportation, to be sure, is at the rate of 7 cents a mile, but that has to cover Pullman charges, and all incidentals, too.

Very few of the high moguls who arrive in de luxe style in response to summonses, and put up presidential suites, submit any bills at all, simply scoring to notice the piffling little sums the law limits them to, for their time, and testimony.

From the smaller fry, loud are the lamentations which frequently go up, when the unfortunate purveyor of information not only finds his "swindle sheet" good for but a fraction of its face, but realizes that he's actually out of pocket as a result of his efforts to help one of congress "probe" along.

The gunnily-wanted witness who, duly subpoenaed, honestly can't come from a distance owing to lack of funds, gets a railroad ticket in advance, and usually a $5-bill, for meals on the way.

The investigators do precious little worrying about volunteer witnesses.

The ones who lie low until they're called for, and sometimes even then, are the chaps it's necessary to keep checked up on. The initial bunch, of this class, usually are indicated automatically, by the nature of the inquiry. Those who come after are suggested by the evidence, as it develops.

The process of getting them, the same as any court of law's with the sergeant-at-arms as bailiff, but the questioning's quite a different thing. A court's bound by established rules; a congressional committee by nothing but its members' fancy.

However, a balky congressional witness has one advantage. Once in contempt of it, a recalcitrant faces a show-down, sooner or later.

A congressional committee has a beginning and an end. When it makes its final report and quits, those who may have defied it are free by default, if they've managed to fight off its demands on them, by dilatory tactics, until then.

With The Women of Today

At a meeting of the board of governors of the Pan-American union, Miss Doris Stevens (former wife of Dudley Field Malone), was appointed chairman of the Inter American Commission of Women.

The commission is to study the civil and political status of women in the countries of the American continent. Six other members will be appointed from other countries.

Doris Stevens is vice president of the National Woman's party and one of the founders of the Lucy Stone league, whose members believe in retaining their own names after marriage.

WARNS FOREIGN STUDENTS

A woman member of the Young Woman's Christian association of Germany has issued a warning to young foreign girls who go to Berlin to study, that living expenses are high and unemployment great. They must have sufficient funds to carry them, or they will face hardship and curtailment of their careers.

RUSSIAN WOMEN LEARN TO READ

More than 622,000 women in Russia have learned to read and write since 1922.

WOMEN DECORATORS

The Women Decorators' club of New York City recently held an exhibition in which 125 women among the uniformed, traveling men are exceptionally well equipped to be model husbands. In them you find tact, diplomacy, human understanding and sympathy, as well as good fellowship.

The ones who lie low until they're called for, and sometimes comes an obsession with nearly all of them. Ask any salesman who has been on the road a few years. Irrespective of the general impression among the uniformed, traveling men are exceptionally well equipped to be model husbands. In them you find tact, diplomacy, human understanding and sympathy, as well as good fellowship.

That is a fine defense of your craft, S. P. T., and is generally true, I am sure.

Peter's Adventure

By MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A FLYING TRAP

"Whip-poor-will! Whip-poor-will! Whip-poor-will!"

Again and again the mournful cry came floating over the pasture and each time it sounded nearer.

"I do believe that Whip-poor-will is coming this way!" Peter looked up, thinking to see the fellow sailing in the sky above him. But Peter's companion shook his head.

"I don't think he will come this way—not as early in the evening as this," chirped he. "You see, Whip-poor-will has just started hunting and probably he is very hungry, after having had little to eat all day."

"My, but you ought to see that bird catch moths! He just dotes on them. I eat moths once in a while, but for a steady diet give me mosquitoes. Let Whip-poor-will set his heart on a leaf-eating beetle and the poor thing hasn't a chance to escape. I am rather proud of my own mouth, but it is nothing compared to his. Whip-poor-will's mouth is enormous—I wouldn't dare go too near it myself when it was open for fear I might fall in! All around it are bristles that sweep the insects from the air right into Whip-poor-will's jaws as he flies low over the undergrowth and among the trees. His mouth is really a trap, and the best part of it is the insects never discover it until it's too late."

"I expect the insects would say 'the worst part,'" laughed the boy. "Now that you have told me all about Whip-poor-will, talk a little about yourself. Who are you, anyway?"

"Good gracious, haven't I told you? Now, isn't that forgetful of me! I am a wise old bird. Two legs, and have heard and seen much in my day."

"I am Nighthawk. Shirk! Shirk! (That means 'too bad' in my language, you know). Unlucky was my family to be given such a name. You have no idea what a hard time of it we Nighthawks have had trying to live down a bad reputation. And we are not a bad lot in spite of what folks say about us. We have no talons and our beak is not hooked—it's as straight as can be. We are not birds of prey any more than we are birds of the night. Because we do not roost until after twilight and have many friends among the night-fliers and bear the name of Nighthawks we are dreadfully misunderstood. However, there is no use worrying about that. Say, boy, what do you see on that rock over there? Unless my eyes deceive me, there stands my wife and baby. What can they be doing so far from home?"

The boy looked in the direction that Nighthawk was pointing and sure enough on a flat slab of stone crouched Mrs. Nighthawk. She looked so much like his companion. And cuddling to her side—just as close as it could squeeze—nestled a downy chick. So motionless were mother and babe standing that the boy had to strain his eyes to see them. "Pretty clever, those two, aren't they?" They heard your voice, boy, and they are hiding."

CEDARVILLE LOSES SLUGGING TILT TO WILBERFORCE NINE

Hectic Fifth Inning Puts
Victors Out In Front

Pounding two pitchers for nineteen hits, and with the aid of eight errors, Wilberforce University opened its baseball season by outslugging Cedarville College for a 24 to 11 victory in a hectic game on the Wilberforce diamond Monday afternoon.

Until the fifth inning, the "Yellow-Jackets" were leading by one run with the score 7 to 6. In the fifth, Wilberforce combined six hits with four errors to register eleven runs and acquire a safe margin, which was added to as the contest wore on.

Fifteen players came to bat in this inning. The home nine should have been retired with but two runs. With the bases loaded and one out, the next batter dropped an easy bunt in front of the plate. With a double play in sight, Ruttan, catcher, gummed up the works and the procession around the bags continued.

Adair was the starting pitcher for Cedarville, but was removed in favor of Nagley, a sidewheeler, in the last of the seventh with two men down. Troubled by a sore arm, Nagley showed his gameness by striking out the heavy-hitting Ward for the third out.

Ward had previously hit safely in his first five times at bat, knocking out a home run, triple, two doubles and a single. He is captain of the Wilberforce team and plays first base.

Then in the eighth when Wilberforce again clogged the bases on two scratch hits and an error, Nagley put on steam and struck out the next three batters. In addition he hit a double in two times at bat.

Cedarville obtained sixteen hits. Six Wilberforce errors also contributed to the scoring of the visitors.

Pearson started on the hill for Wilberforce but retired in the fourth stanza after the first three batters had hit safely. Scott, the relief twirler, did a nifty job of it and got by fairly well the remainder of the game.

C. Lyon, second baseman, was the principal hitter in the Cedarville lineup. He obtained three hits, all singles, six times at bat. Armstrong also hit safely his first two trips to the platter, but later ingloriously popped out with the bases full in the fourth. Buynum also hit for the circuit for Wilberforce. He played short.

Cedarville's next game is with Defiance at Cedarville April 26. Cedarville has scheduled its first two games. Score by innings:

R. H. E.
Cedar. 0 3 2 2 1 0 0 1 2-11 16 8
Wil. 3 0 3 0 1 1 4 2 x-24 19 6

SPORT CHAMPIONS SHOW HOW IT IS DONE

There are perhaps no greater idols or ideals in their chosen lines of sport than the four shown above. Bobby Jones, of the duffer but of the expert American and British golf for the perfection of his golfing champion, is not only the envied style. Gene Tunney, world's champion heavy, is proving that intelligence and fighting can go hand in hand. Babe Ruth, champion home run hitter, is the center of attention again that the baseball season is under way. Will he beat his last year's great record of 60 home runs? Lastly, Helen Wills, America's champion women's tennis player, is showing better form than ever this year and is expected to attain even greater heights in this season's campaign.

POLICE SEEK MAN ACCUSED OF TRYING CHECK MANIPULATION

Suspected of trying to defraud The Commercial and Savings Bank, this city, by attempting to open a banking account with a worthless check for $1,800, police are searching for a Greek who gave his name as Pete Stapanokas, Bellevue, O., who is believed to have fled from the city after evading police Monday afternoon.

The Greek is said to have presented himself at the local bank last Saturday, declaring he was in possession of a check for $1,800 on the First National Bank at Aberdeen, Md. He asked permission to open an account.

Because the check was foreign, bank officials denied the request. Stapanokas returned later and told officials he was arranging to purchase a restaurant business on

W. Main St. and that he would get the present owner's endorsement of the check.

Returning Monday, he informed the bank he had closed the deal and once more requested that his check be honored. His request was refused a second time, bank officials explaining that they would first be required to determine whether the check was valid.

Upon receiving a wire that the man had no funds in the bank, bank officials notified police. Before police started to investigate, a bank employee visited the restaurant the Greek claimed to have purchased. Entering on the pretext of making a purchase, he found the Greek inside.

Patrolman Fred Jones and Peter Shagin, motorcycle policeman, arrived afterward and began to question the Greek. Excusing himself for a minute to go to an upstairs room, Stapanokas is thought to have escaped through a rear door as the officers, searching the house, discovered he had disappeared.

Police learned that a Greek answering the same description had, a similar attempt Monday to open up an account at The Citizens National Bank, presenting a check for $400 on the Wright Bank Co., Bellevue, O.

He told officials of this bank the same story of buying a local restaurant, asserting he was scheduled to take charge of the business in a few days. He left the check with the bank after being told they could not accept it until an inquiry had been made. He was told that if the check was found to be collectible, the money would be put to his credit. The bank is awaiting word from the Bellevue bank.

The Greek came to Xenia last Friday and his wife and three children are still here.

Police confiscated a Ford sedan in which the Greek and his family came to Xenia. The machine bears a Sandusky, O. license and Police Chief M. E. Graham was trying to communicate with Sandusky officials Tuesday in an effort to determine its ownership.

CEDARVILLE LOSES SLUGGING TILT TO WILBERFORCE NINE

Hectic Fifth Inning Puts
Front

Pounding two pitchers for nineteen hits, and with the aid of eight errors, Wilberforce University opened its baseball season by outslugging Cedarville College for a 24 to 11 victory in a hectic game on the Wilberforce diamond Monday afternoon.

Until the fifth inning, the "Yellow-Jackets" were leading by one run with the score 7 to 6. In the fifth, Wilberforce combined six hits with four errors to register eleven runs and acquire a safe margin, which was added to as the contest wore on.

Fifteen players came to bat in this inning. The home nine should have been retired with but two runs. With the bases loaded and one out, the next batter dropped an easy bunt in front of the plate. With a double play in sight, Rutan, catcher, gummed up the works and the procession around the bags continued.

Adair was the starting pitcher for Cedarville, but was removed in favor of Nagley, a sidewheeler, in the last of the seventh with two men down. Troubled by a sore arm, Nagley showed his gameness by striking out the heavy-hitting Ward for the third out.

Ward had previously hit safely his first five times at bat, knocking out a home run, triple, two doubles and a single. He is captain of the Wilberforce team and plays first base.

Then in the eighth when Wilberforce again clogged the bases on two scratch hits and an error, Nagley put on steam and struck out the next three batters. In addition he hit a double in two times at bat.

Cedarville obtained sixteen hits. Six Wilberforce errors also contributed to the scoring of the visitors.

Pearson started on the hill for Wilberforce but retired in the fourth stanza after the first three batters had hit safely. Scott, the relief twirler, did a nifty job of it and got by fairly well the remainder of the game.

C. Lyon, second baseman, was the principal hitter in the Cedarville lineup. He obtained three hits, all singles, in six times at bat. Armstrong also hit safely his first two trips to the platter, but later ingloriously popped out with the bases full in the fourth. Bynum also hit for the circuit for Wilberforce. He played short.

Cedarville's next game is with Deane at Cedarville April 26. Cedarville has dropped its first two games. Score by innings:

POLICE SEEK MAN ACCUSED OF TRYING CHECK MANIPULATION

Suspected of trying to defraud The Commercial and Savings Bank, this city, by attempting to open a banking account with a worthless check for $1,800, police are searching for a Greek who gave his name as Pete Stapanakas, Bellevue, O., who is believed to have fled from the city after evading police Monday afternoon.

The Greek is said to have presented himself at the local bank last Saturday, declaring he was in possession of a check for $1,800 on the First National Bank at Aberdeen, Md. He asked permission to open an account.

Because the check was foreign, bank officials denied the request. Stapanakas returned later and told officials he was arranging to purchase a restaurant business on

W. Main St. and that he would get the present owner's endorsement of the check.

Returning Monday, he informed the bank he had closed the deal and once more requested that his check be honored. His request was refused a second time, bank officials explaining that they would first be required to determine whether the check was valid.

Upon receiving a wire that the man had no funds in the bank, bank officials notified police. Before police started to investigate, a bank employee visited the restaurant the Greek claimed to have purchased. Entering on the pretext of making a purchase, he found the Greek inside.

Patrolman Fred Jones and Peter Shagin, motorcycle policeman, arrived afterward and began to question the Greek. Excusing himself for a minute to go to an upstairs room, Stapanakas is thought to have escaped through a rear door as the officers, searching the house, discovered he had disappeared.

Police learned that a Greek answering the same description made a similar attempt Monday to open an account at The Citizens National Bank, presenting a check for $400 on the Wright Bank Co., Bellevue, O.

He told officials of this bank the same story of buying a local restaurant, asserting he was scheduled to take charge of the business in a few days. He left the check with the bank after being told they could not accept it until an inquiry had been made. He was told that if the check was found to be collectable, the money would be put to his credit. The bank is awaiting word from the Bellevue bank.

The Greek came to Xenia last Friday and his wife and three children are still here.

Police confiscated a Ford sedan in which the Greek and his family came to Xenia. The machine bears a Sandusky, O. license and Police Chief M. E. Graham was trying to communicate with Sandusky officials Tuesday in an effort to locate the vehicle.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Personal and confidential: Of course dreams come true. Dorothy Ward, taken from behind a 5-and-10 counter by Cecil B. DeMille to play in his "The Godless Girl," has been signed to a five-year contract, by another company.

Thelma Todd, is reported on. gaged to James Bush, New York multimillionaire whom she met at a party given by Otto Kahn in Los Angeles. Harry Langdon insists on directing his own pictures, so he isn't going to work for First National any more. Gloria Swanson is going back to the minor leagues. She's working for FBO now.

Emil Jannings, a tremendous eater, consumed a $5,000 lobster salad the other day. It gave him a stomach-ache, and he had to lay off for a day, while an expensive supporting company idled. A company recently paid $25,000 for a story, then had it rewritten at a cost of $15,000, and finally junked all but the title, necessitating calling in another author at $5,000. Then $4,000 had to be spent for editing and titles.

AW, WHAT'S THE USE?—I'M TOO TIRED—AND ANYHOW BAGGY KNEES ARE A SIGN OF PEACE—PEOPLE WILL THINK I'VE BEEN DOWN ON MY KNEES PRAYING.

THEY'RE MORE LIKELY TO THINK YOU'VE BEEN SHOOTING CRAPS! IT'S EASY FOR A MARRIED MAN TO GET PEACE AND REST—ALL HE HAS TO DO IS DIE.

GABBY GRAMS MY GIRL THINKS "HOAX" IS THE NAME OF A GARDEN TOOL—A COMBINATION "HOX" AND "AXE."—GIMM SAWYER, Birmingham, Southern, Mo. HEY THERE, READER!—GABBYGRAMS ARE COMING IN FROM ALL OVER AMERICA BUT YOURS MAY BE AS GOOD AS ANY—SEND 'EM IN.

Bebe Daniels wishes she hadn't bought some gold mine stock. Even King Vidor is the author of fifty-one unsold movie scenarios. Ramon Navarro is going to Europe and will have his voice cultivated. ### KANSAS CITY READY FOR REPUBLICAN'S 1928 CONVENTION

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 17.—With the Republican National convention two months distant, virtually all arrangements for the assemblage of delegates, alternates and newspapermen have been decided upon. The temporary chairman and "keynote" speaker has been selected; the National committee has reserved headquarters, and nearly all presidential candidates have chosen their sanctum sanctorum.

Difficult housing problems which go with all National conventions, and usually present a tedious task with state delegations and newspapermen, representatives clamoring for particular locations, have been carefully ironed out with all parties concerned apparently well satisfied.

Nearly ten miles of decorated streets, mostly in the downtown district, will greet the visitors on June 12, while Kansas City in general will clean up, paint up and plant flowers. With much activity being manifest about campaigns for beautification, it is freely predicted that the setting presented the convention gathering will be the most epic and span as well as artists, in Kansas City's history.

Civic pride stirred
Civic pride has been aroused to the point where all "nooks" are being tidied. A city-wide flower growing contest with prizes offered for the best bed is under way. Vacant lots are being cleared of rubbish and transformed into beautiful flower gardens. Most of the flowers being planted are the varieties that bloom most luxuriantly in June.

A better street lighting system is receiving consideration, with plans calling for erection of lights that would increase the present illumination about five-hundred per cent.

Perhaps the most picturesque scene coincident with the convention will be a "Flambeau" parade in which G. O. P. history will be depicted through each Presidential stage since its origin. In the early day of Republicanism this parade was the high spot of all conventions.

Workmen's Parade
Flaming, smoking torches illuminating a procession of "workmen" carrying their dinner pails and bearing placards endorsing William McKinley for president; abolitionists in black suits and bow ties tucked under wing bat collars, and "rough riders" mounted prancing down the street, headed by an outstanding figure, are a few of the features being planned for the parade. Every president from the Republican ranks, from Lincoln to Roosevelt, will be shown by proxy.

Taft, being the only living former Republican president, will not be included. Arriving at a central point, possibly a park, each "candidate" will make a short speech. The old practice of employing a gorgeous pyrotechnical display will be eliminated, however, as the committee deemed it too dangerous. A number of floats will likely be used. A dozen bands will provide music for the procession.

Carl P. Warner, a member of the Flambeau Club in 1890, will have charge of the parade. The event has been tentatively set for the night of June 11, just prior to the opening of the convention.

Following the past presidents' parade, a clamorous march of contending political camps will vie with each other for noise, number and display. Only out-of-town political clubs will be allowed to march in this sector of the parade, as Kansas City Republicans, as hosts to the convention, will remain neutral in the matter of joining one or the other of the ranks of candidates for the presidential nomination.

For the second time in history, this convention will be brought into millions of American homes—the rapid development of radio in the last four years having afforded such possibilities.

Admittance tickets to the convention are being printed, and for the first time in the history of Republican politics the cards will bear other engravings beside a picture of the National Capitol. A picture of Convention hall, the convention site, will be engraved on the tickets. They will be printed in sets of five and each ticket will have two stubs attached: one for the morning and one for the afternoon session. Each will be of different color representing the particular day, so that they may be more easily checked. Should the convention last longer than five days, the last ticket will be used and a hole punched in it for each extra session.

Season tickets will be prepared for newspapermen, which must be accompanied by a press badge. The tickets will be distributed close to the opening date so that counterfeiting will be prevented. Ample room has been allotted newspaper and press associations at the hall.

Goff Enters Race
United States Senator Guy D. Goff, of West Virginia, has entered the race in his state for presidential delegates to the Republican national convention, thus becoming West Virginia's "favorite son" contender, opposing Herbert Hoover and Frank O. Lowden.

KANSAS CITY READY FOR REPUBLICAN'S 1928 CONVENTION

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 17.—With the Republican National convention two months distant, virtually all arrangements for the assemblage of delegates, alternates and newspapermen have been decided upon. The temporary chairman and "keynote" speaker has been selected; the National committee has reserved headquarters, and nearly all presidential candidates have chosen their sanctuaries.

Difficult housing problems which go with all National conventions, and usually present a tedious task with state delegations and newspapermen clamoring for particular locations, have been carefully ironed out with all parties concerned apparently well satisfied.

Nearly ten miles of decorated streets, mostly in the downtown district, will greet the visitors on June 12, while Kansas City in vacant lots will be being cleaned up and planted with flowers. With much activity being manifest about campaigns for beautification, it is freely predicted that the setting presented the convention gathering will be the most splendid since as well as artists in Kansas City's history.

Civic Pride Stirred

Civic pride has been aroused to the point where all "uglies" are being taboed. A citywide flower growing contest with prizes offered for the best beds is under way. Vacant lots are being cleaned of rubbish and transformed into beautiful flower gardens. Most of the flowers being planted are the varieties that bloom most luxuriantly in June.

A better street lighting system is receiving consideration, with plans calling for erection of lights that would increase the present illumination about five-hundred per cent.

Perhaps the most picturesque scene coincident with the convention will be a "Flambeau" parade in which G. O. P. history will be depicted through each Presidential stage since its origin. In the early day of Republicanism this parade was the high spot of all conventions.

Workmen's Parade

Flaming, smoking torches illuminating a procession of "workmen" carrying their dinner pails and bearing placards endorsing William McKinley for president; abolitionists in black suits and bow ties tucked under white hats and carrying "rough riders" mounted, prancing down the street, headed by an outstanding figure, are a few of the features being planned for the parade. Every president from the Republican ranks, from Lincoln to Roosevelt, will be shown by proxy, being the only living former Republican president will not be included. Arriving at a central point, possibly a park, each "candidate" will make a short speech. The old practice of employing a gorgeous pyrotechnical display will be eliminated, however, as the committee deemed it too dangerous. A number of floats will likely be used. A dozen bands will provide music for the procession. Carl P. Warner, a member of the Flambeau Club in 1904, will have charge of the parade. The event has been tentatively set for the night of June 11, just prior to the opening of the convention.

Following the past presidents parade, a clamorous march of competing political camps will vie with each other for noise, number and display. Only out-of-town political clubs will be allowed to march in this sector of the parade, as Kansas City Republicans, as hosts to the convention, will remain neutral in the matter of joining one or the other of the ranks of candidates for the presidential nomination.

For the second time in history, this convention will be brought to millions of American homes—the rapid development of radio in the last four years having afforded such possibilities.

Admittance tickets to the convention are being printed, and for the first time in the history of Republican politics the cards will bear other engravings beside a picture of the National Capital. A picture of Convention hall, the convention site, will be engraved on the tickets. They will be printed in sets of five and each ticket will have two stubs attached; one for the morning and one for the afternoon session. Each will be of different color representing the particular day, so that they may be more easily checked. Should the convention last longer than five days, the last ticket will be used and a hole punched in it for each extra session.

Season tickets will be prepared for newspapermen, which must be accompanied by a press badge. The tickets will be distributed close to the opening date so that counterfeiting will be prevented. Ample room has been allotted for newspapermen and press associations at the hall.
